Terms and Conditions for a Green Valley Journal of Health and Biomedical Sciences
Updated [03/12/2024]

1. Submission and Acceptance

- Eligibility for Submission: Authors must ensure that their submission adheres to the Green Valley journal ‘s scope and submission guidelines.
- Originality: The submission must be original work and should not have been published or under consideration elsewhere.
- Peer Review: Submissions will undergo peer review by experts in the field. Authors may be required to revise their work based on reviewer feedback.
- Acceptance and Publication: Articles are not considered accepted until a formal acceptance letter has been issued by the editorial team. Publication may be subject to formatting or editing.
- Preprints: Authors may be allowed to submit preprints but should check our journal’s policy on preprints and prior publications.

2. Copyright and Licensing

- Copyright Ownership: Authors usually retain copyright to their work unless they agree to transfer copyright to the journal or publisher. The terms will specify whether authors retain copyright or assign it to the journal.
- License to Publish: If copyright is transferred or licensed, the journal may have the right to publish the article and distribute it in various formats (e.g., print, digital).
- Open Access: The Green Valley Journal of Health and Biomedical Sciences requires open access or allows authors to choose open access for their articles. Terms related to open access (e.g., article processing charges or licensing) will be specified.
- Reuse of Content: The terms will specify how authors and others can reuse content from the journal, including licensing options like Creative Commons.

3. Ethical Guidelines

- Authorship: Only those who have contributed significantly to the research and manuscript preparation should be listed as authors. Any changes to authorship must be agreed upon by all parties.
- Plagiarism and Misconduct: Submissions should not involve plagiarism, fabrication, or falsification of data.
- Conflict of Interest: Authors must disclose any financial, personal, or professional conflicts of interest that might influence their work.
- Human and Animal Research Ethics: Authors must ensure that research involving human participants or animals has been conducted ethically and in compliance with relevant laws and guidelines. CLICK HERE FOR THE GUIDELINE

4. Review and Editorial Process

- Double-blind Peer Review: Green Valley Journal of Health and Biomedical Sciences uses a double-blind review process, meaning both authors and reviewers are anonymized.
- Reviewers' Responsibilities: Reviewers are expected to assess manuscripts impartially, provide constructive feedback, and maintain confidentiality about the content.
- Revisions and Resubmissions: Authors may be asked to revise and resubmit their manuscript based on reviewers’ comments.

5. Publication Fees

Green Valley Journal of Health and Biomedical Sciences uses the open-access and subscription article copyright policies.

- Article Processing Charges (APC): for open-access articles, the Green Valley Journal of Health and Biomedical Sciences demands publication fees that authors need to pay upon acceptance. These charges cover administrative and publication costs.
- Waivers and Discounts: Green Valley Journal of Health and Biomedical Sciences offers waivers or discounts for authors from low-income countries or certain types of articles
- For subscription articles, readers are requested to pay for article access.
- Green Valley Journal of Health and Biomedical Sciences accepts a free access policy for the first four issues.

6. Privacy and Data Protection

- Personal Data: The journal may collect and store the personal data of authors, reviewers, and subscribers by data protection laws.
- Confidentiality: Submissions, reviewer comments, and other materials associated with the review process are confidential and should not be disclosed by reviewers, editors, or authors without permission.

7. Revisions and Withdrawals

- Revisions: Authors must make any required revisions within the specified time frame. If authors do not comply, their manuscripts may be rejected.
- Withdrawal of Manuscript: Authors may withdraw their manuscript before formal acceptance but may be required to provide a reason for withdrawal.

8. Licensing and Distribution

- Licensing: Green Valley Journal provides a Creative Commons license agreement policy.
- Distribution Rights: Green Valley Journal reserves the right to distribute articles via different platforms, including electronic databases, websites, and archives.

9. Disclaimers and Liability

- Accuracy of Content: Green Valley Journal disclaims responsibility for any inaccuracies or errors in the published articles and their interpretation.
- Liability for Content: The authors are typically responsible for the content and accuracy of their articles. Green Valley Journal is not liable for any legal issues arising from the publication of the article.

10. Amendments to the Terms

- Right to Change Terms: This journal reserves the right to amend or update the terms and conditions at any time. Authors and users should periodically review the terms.
- Notification of Changes: Authors and users will typically be notified of any significant changes to the journal's policies, particularly those that affect submissions and publication.